

Concordia Theological Quarterly

Volume 75:3-4

July/October 2011

Table of Contents

Walther and the Revival of Confessional Lutheranism
Martin R. Noland.....	195
Grabau Versus Walther: The Use of the Book of Concord in the American Lutheran Debate on Church and Ministry in the Nineteenth Century
Benjamin T.G. Mayes	217
C.F.W. Walther's Use of Luther
Cameron A. MacKenzie.....	253
Mission through Witness, Mercy, Life Together in Walther and the First Fathers of Missouri
Albert B. Collver	275
Eduard Preuss and C.F.W. Walther
Roland F. Ziegler	289
Wilhelm Löhe: His Voice Still Heard in Walther's Church
John T. Pless	311
Walther, the Third Use of the Law, and Contemporary Issues
David P. Scaer	329
The King James Version: The Beginning or the End?
Cameron A. MacKenzie.....	343

Theological Observer 367
 Dean Wenthe: An Appreciation
 An Old Seminary, a New President, and the Unfolding of Divine History
 The Sacred Character of Human Life

Book Reviews 372

Books Received 381

Indices for Volume 75 (2011)..... 382

Observing Two Anniversaries

Carl Ferdinand Wilhelm Walther was born on October 25, 1811, in Langenchursdorf, Saxony, Germany. It is appropriate that this issue honor C.F.W. Walther on this 200th anniversary of his birth because of his significant influence as the first and third president of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (1847–1850 and 1864–1878) and also president and professor at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis (1850–1887). Most of the articles below, which were first presented at the 2011 Symposium on the Lutheran Confessions in Fort Wayne, reflect his influence in many areas of biblical teaching, confessional subscription, and the life of the church in mission. These historical and theological studies are offered here so that Walther may be understood in his context and continue to be a blessed voice in our synod as we face the future.

This issue also recognizes one other anniversary. The venerated King James Version of the Bible, first printed in 1611, is now 400 years old. The article below on the King James Version was originally given as a paper at the 2011 Symposium on Exegetical Theology in honor of this anniversary. The importance of this translation for the English-speaking world is widely acknowledged. Although many may think that its day has passed, this article demonstrates the ongoing influence of the King James Version through other translations.

The Editors

Indices to Volume 75 (2011)

Articles, Research Notes (RN), and Theological Observers (TO)

Alms, Paul Gregory. "Ash Wednesday Sermon" (TO).....	1-2:180-183
Collver, Albert B. "Mission through Witness, Mercy, Life Together in Walther and the First Fathers of Missouri"	3-4:275-287
Engelbrecht, Edward A. "Luther's Threefold Use of the Law"	1-2:135-150
Gieschen, Charles A. "An Old Seminary, a New President, and the Unfolding of Divine History" (TO)	3-4:368-369
Kilcrease, Jack. "Gerhard Forde's Doctrine of the Law: A Confessional Lutheran Critique"	1-2:151-179
MacKenzie, Cameron A. "C.F.W. Walther's Use of Luther"	3-4:253-273
MacKenzie, Cameron A. "The King James Version: The Beginning or the End?"	3-4:343-365
Mattes, Mark. "A Confessional Response to North American Lutheran-Reformed Ecumenism"	1-2:3-26
Maxfield, John A. "Luther, Zwingli, and Calvin on the Significance of Christ's Death"	1-2:91-110
Mayes, Benjamin T. G. "Grabau Versus Walther: The Use of the Book of Concord in the American Lutheran Debate on Church and Ministry in the Nineteenth Century"	3-4:217-252
Mayes, Benjamin T.G. "Post-Reformation Lutheran Attitudes Toward the Reformed Doctrine of God"	1-2:111-134
Noland, Martin R. "Walther and the Revival of Confessional Lutheranism"	3-4:195-216
Pless, John T. "Wilhelm Löhe: His Voice Still Heard in Walther's Church"	3-4:311-328
Rast, Lawrence R., Jr. "Dean Wenthe: An Appreciation" (TO)	3-4:367-368
Scaer, David P. "God as Secondary Fundamental Doctrine in Missouri Synod Theology"	1-2:43-61
Scaer, David P. "Walther, the Third Use of the Law, and Contemporary Issues"	3-4:329-342

Scaer, Peter J. "A Pro-Life Prayer" (TO)	1-2:183-184
Weinrich, William C. "Father, Son, and Spirit Is God: What Is the Point?"	1-2:27-42
Wenthe, Dean O. "The Sacred Character of Human Life" (TO).....	3-4:370-371
Ziegler, Roland F. "Eduard Preuss and C.F.W. Walther"	3-4:289-309
Ziegler, Roland F. "Luther and Calvin on God: Origins of Lutheran and Reformed Differences"	1-2:63-90

Book Reviews

Beale, G.K. and D. A. Carson, editors. Commentary on the New Testament Uses of the Old Testament. (Daniel Johansson)	1-2:185
Brock, Brian. Christian Ethics is a Technological Age. (John T. Pless).....	1-2:86-187
Campbell, Constantine R. Basics of Verbal Aspect in Biblical Greek. (John G. Nordling).....	1-2:189-190
Eckardt, Burnell F. The New Testament in His Blood: A Study of the Holy Liturgy of the Christian Church. (David P. Scaer).....	3-4:376
MacMullen, Ramsay. The Second Church. Popular Christianity A.D. 200-400. (John G. Nordling)	3-4:373-374
Mannermaa, Tuomo. Krisi I. Stjerna, editor and translator. Two Kinds of Love: Martin Luther's Religious World. (John T. Pless)	3-4:376-377
Metaxes, Eric. Bonhoeffer: Pastor, Martyr, Prophet, Spy— A Righteous Gentile vs. the Third Reich. (John T. Pless).....	1-2:185-186
Noble, Bonnie. Lucas Cranach the Elder: Art and Devotion of the German Reformation. (Paul J. Grime).....	3-4:378-380
Shults, F. LeRon and Brent Waters, editors. Christology and Ethics. (John T. Pless)	3-4:377-378
Trainor, Michael. Epaphras: Paul's Educator at Colossae. (John G. Nordling)	1-2:187-188
Westhelle, Vitor. The Scandalous God: The Use and Abuse of the Cross. (John T. Pless).....	3-4:374-375

Movie Review

Walther, DVD. Directed by Dale Ward. Produced by John Klinger.

(Martin R. Noland)..... 3-4:372